Lionettes To Continue World Series Pool

A very successful Lionettes meeting was held at the home of the president, Freda Jones on Monday, Aug. 26.

Ruth Richardson was elected director replacing Ruth Christenson. New catering plans were made and it was also decided to continue the baseball pool as in former years, the proceeds to be used for the Senior Citizens night. Following the business meeting a light lunch was served by hostesses Jerry Snow and Freda Jones.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES BANNED FROM DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Ten American missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico from the Dominican Republic Aug. 3, Amiel McKee, presiding minister of the Vulcan congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced yesterday. Fare was paid by the Dominican government and the missionaries were escorted under arrest to the plane.

Action came on the heels of "a wave of persecution equaled only in Communist countries" climaxed by a total ban proscribing the work of Bible education conducted by the Witnesses in the Dominican Republic since 1945.

An ultimatum to the Christian missionaries to renounce all association with the organization and cease communication with their Brooklyn, N.Y., office or leave the country was made last month by Major General Arturo Espallat, Minister of Security, whom the U.S. government has sought to question in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez. Some of the missionaries have been in the country for 11 years.

According to official news sources of the Dominican Republic, proscription of the Christian activity of Jehovah's Witnesses was legalized by President Hector Trujillo on July 25, and the law carries penalties of from one to three months imprisonment with fines of from thirty to one hundred dollars. It was announced that over $1 million had been appropriated by the Dominican government to enforce the ban.

Amiel McKee said a full-scale campaign to restrict the religious freedom of the Witnesses has been underway since July 1. Kingdom Hall meeting places have been ordered closed and about 250 of Jehovah's Witnesses were brought in for questioning. The Witnesses have been subjected to beatings and violence by police and prison guards in an effort to make them

MEMBERSHIP in the United Nations is open to all peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the U.N. Charter and are able and willing to carry out these obligations. Since the establishment of the Organization, in 1945, its membership has increased from 50 to 80 states, thus getting nearer to the Charter's goal of universality. New members are admitted by a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly, upon recommendation of the Security Council.

Following a long deadlock on the question of admission, within a year 20 nations have joined the Organization — sixteen in December, 1955, during the 10th session of the General Assembly, and four last November and December, at the beginning of the current session.

Limited Amount of 'Flu Vaccine Soon Available

The Provincial Department of Public Health has informed the local Foothills Health Unit that a limited amount of vaccine will be made available in the province for the control of epidemic influenza. Reports so far received by the Department from Ottawa indicate that 30,000 doses will be available by the end of September, with another 90,000 between then and the beginning of March, 1958.

It is believed that one dose of vaccine will be sufficient to give some protection for at least six months, and it is hoped that the epidemic will have passed by the time immunity begins to wear off. This new vaccine will be distributed through City Health Departments, Health Units and Medical Health Officers and municipal nurses in other areas.

It will be the responsibility of the Foothills Health Unit to make whatever local arrangements they consider best for the equitable distribution of the vaccine in this area.

This new influenza virus, popularly known as Asiatic 'flu, is more dangerous to older people than to the young. There are no cases of it in this area at present, and few if any in Canada, however, Dr. Murray Rowland, Medical Health Officer of the Foothills unit, feels that it is practically certain that the epidemic will eventually reach here.

renounce all association with the movement, Amiel McKee stated. About 50 are now in prison, some with sentences of two years.

Enforce Mobile Home Licensing

Requirements of the Mobile Homes Licensing Act will be strictly enforced on and after Monday, Aug. 26. This was announced by Angus W. Morrison, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs for the Government of Alberta, whose department is responsible for the administration of the Act.

Mr. Morrison pointed out that the number of trailers used as places of domicile (exclusive of skid shacks) in Alberta has been estimated in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand. "In view of the small number of licenses issued since April 1," he continued, "it becomes immediately obvious that not too much attention is being paid to the requirements of the Mobile Homes Licensing Act."

Mr. Morrison said the terms of the Act are quite clear, and stated that "on and after August 26, any person or persons violating the provisions of the Act will be subject to prosecution." Inspectors, municipal officials and police officers are being instructed to this effect. They will be in a position "to proceed accordingly with the full knowledge that the government intends to carry out its policy of strict enforcement," he declared.

He said the purpose of the Act is to assist the municipalities of the Province to secure revenue by way of license which had previously been obtained by assessment and taxation and emphasized the fact that the facilities of the department are directed to this end. It is anticipated that municipalities, therefore, will take whatever steps may be necessary to implement fully the licensing plan and so take advantage of the revenue thus afforded them.

Anyone hearing of this announcement is asked to pass along the information to those directly concerned who may not have otherwise been made aware of it.

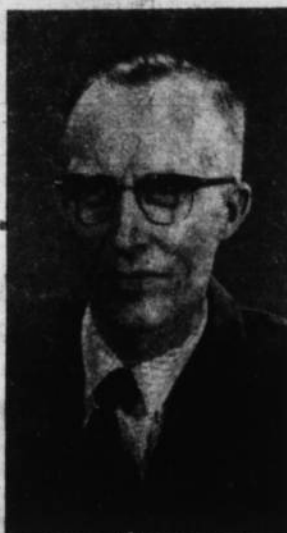

Notes From The District Ag.

Winter Wheat and Cover Crop Problems

The first commercial crop of hard winter wheat in Southern Alberta was grown by a E. E. Thompson in 1902, of the Spring Coulee district. It was a variety brought in from Nebraska, known as Turkey Red. Karrkov, the present recommended variety of winter wheat, was obtained from the Kansas State College of Agriculture in 1907, by the Lethbridge Experimental Station.

The seeding date for winter wheat, is a very important factor, affecting the final success of the crop. It has been found after many years of research and study that winter wheat should be seeded between the end of the third week in August until Sept. 15. Earlier seedings are more likely to be damaged from winter-killing as well as from streak mosaic. Treating winter wheat with a recommended seed treatment is equally as important

New Minister Of Public Health

DR. J. D. ROSS

Premier E. C. Manning this week announced the retirement of the Hon. W. W. Cross, Minister of Public Health, and Deputy Premier, and the appointment of Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Edmonton, as Dr. Cross's successor. Dr. Ross is a Social Credit member for Edmonton.

Retirement of the senior member of the Alberta cabinet will become effective about the middle of September. Dr. Cross will retain his Legislative seat representing the Hand Hills constituency until the next general election.

Dr. Ross was born in Waldo, B.C., in 1911. At the age of 15 he moved with his parents to Edmonton, completing his high school education there. He entered the University of Alberta and was graduated with a degree in Arts and Medicine in 1937. A year later he married the former Lillian Peterson, an R.N., whose home was at Luseland, Sask. The Ross's have seven children, four boys and three girls.

Dr. Ross has practised in Edmonton since 1938 with the exception of four and one-half years service with the Royal Canadian Navy during World War II. Following his discharge he took post-graduate studies at the University of Toronto and Old Victoria Hospital at Montreal. He returned to his Edmonton practice in 1946.

as the treatment of spring wheat.

Winter wheat and cover crop have one common disadvantage which is worthy of note. Both of these crops seem to work in well with Canada thistle, thereby adding to a difficult control problem. The use of either of these crops eliminates the possibility of continuing cultivation until late fall. It has been well known for many years that late fall cultivation of Canada thistle infested land, is one of the best cultural controls. It is certain that the use of fall seeded crops together with a series of wet years has greatly aggravated the thistle problem. It is not the intention here to convey the opinion that fall seeded crops are not worthwhile, there is no doubt about the many advantages they offer, both from a soil conservation and economic viewpoint.

This one disadvantage should not be disregarded. Fortunately there is something that can be done which will help. Fall seeded crops as well as cover crop can be sprayed with 2,4-D to considerable advantage. 2,4-D is non-poisonous to livestock, and is safe to use for the control of thistles in a cover crop.

Showers Again Delay Harvesting Operations

Rain showers have hit most parts of the county the early part of this week, again slowing up the job of harvesting.

The weekend was warm and the cool temperatures and danger of frost predicted by the long-range weather forecast did not materialize. Monday evening, light showers fell at scattered points north and east of Vulcan and Tuesday evening an electrical and rain storm hit the immediate Vulcan storm hit the entire district, bringing as much as an inch of rain.

Swathing of barley is pretty well completed and combining underway. Reports indicate that this district has been favored with a better-than-average barley crop of excellent quality. Yields of both malting and feed barley are averaging 50 bushels to the acre.

Swathing of wheat has started and indications are that quality will be generally higher than last year but yields will be down, averaging 20 to 25 bushels on summerfall. There has been considerable hail damage throughout the country this year which will

Thieves' Haul Is $10 In Silver

Thieves who broke into Macleod's Store Monday night were apparently scared off before they could do much looting, departing with only $10 in silver.

When proprietor Gerry Ness discovered on Monday that the back door of the store had been forced he expected that the till would have been cleaned of its contents of silver and possibly some merchandise also stolen. However, a careful check revealed that, though several rolls of silver and some loose change had been left in the till, all that had been taken was a $10 roll of quarters and the store merchandise was apparently not disturbed.

Police are investigating the break-in.

School Children To Receive Tuberculin Test

The Director of Tuberculosis control has requested that all Health Units skin test all children (Grades 1 to XII) for tuberculosis. It is proposed to use the Mantoux test for this purpose as it gives much greater accuracy than any other tuberculin test. The test involves the use of a very fine needle and a minute quantity of the testing agent is injected under the skin of the forearm. The test is then read 48 to 72 hours after injection. All skin testing will be done by the Medical Officer of Health.

A "positive" test does not necessarily imply that a child is suffering from tuberculosis, but that he or she was sometime in contact with tuberculosis. A free X-ray will be taken should the test be "positive" to eliminate the possibility of active tuberculosis. As this program is in the interest of the children and of the community as a whole, Dr. Rowland of the Foothills Unit, hopes that parents, upon request will co-operate without delay in giving their consent to the test.

Tuberculosis is gradually being eliminated from this area, and a survey of this nature could make the disease a very rare one throughout the Province of Alberta.

MUST PAY MORE

(Farm and Ranch Review)

Urban people seem to think they are a preferred class. They have the idea that they must be well paid for their work, that their pay must be constantly increasing, and that they are entitled to bargain prices for their food.

At the same time they demand that most of their food should be expensively processed and packaged, and that the people who do such work, and sell and deliver the food, must be well remunerated. The costs of such processing, packing, selling and delivery are now the predominant factor in the consumer costs of most foods.

As the population of the world increases the demand for food will grow. But the food will not be available if people expect to obtain it on a bargain basis.

Confidence in another man's virtue is no slight evidence of one's own.

Simone - Loose Wedding Rites

The Vulcan United Church was the scene of an evening wedding on Aug. 10, when Ellen Gertrude Loose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Loose of Vulcan, became the bride of Ralph Joseph Simone, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Simone of Trail, B.C.

Rev. E. G. Hansell, M.P., officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Almond was organist and Mrs. Lillian Lancaster of Banff sang the "Wedding Prayer" prior to the ceremony and "Love's Offering" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white floor-length gown of taffeta with a floating flounce of nylon tulle. Her dainty sequin trimmed headdress held her matching finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with rosebud streamers. Her only jewellery was a string of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Barbara Watts of Calgary was matron of honor and Miss Joyce Loucks and Mrs. Marilyn Pinnell, both of Calgary, acted as attendants. The matron of honor and attendants complimented the bride by wearing identical ballerina-length gowns of white nylon embossed with mauve flowers and matching taffeta cummerbund and picture hats. They carried identical nosegays of white and mauve baby mums.

Little Patsy Loose, niece of the bride, acted as flowergirl. Her floor-length gown was identical to the attendants' and she carried a basket of mauve and white baby mums. Master Billy Loose, nephew of the bride, preceded the bride down the aisle as ringbearer.

Brian Pinnell of Calgary was best man and guests were ushered by Robert Loose, brother of the bride, and Bill Christman, brother-in-law of the groom. Mrs. Robert Loose, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The church was decorated with baskets of mauve and white mums and gladioli and the pews were marked alternately with mauve and white bows.

Following the ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held in the church parlors with open house held at the home of the bride.

The tables were decorated with white and mauve baby mums and the bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

The toast to the bride was proposed by C. H. Andrews to which the groom fittingly responded.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a crystal blue lace dress with pink picture hat and accessories and wore a corsage of pale pink roses. The groom's mother donned a navy dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

For their honeymoon trip to the States and B.C., the bride wore a beige suit with turquoise accessories and a white orchid. The happy couple will be making their home in Toronto.

Out-of-town guests were from Trail, Rossland, Cranbrook, Oils, Calgary, Magrath, Coldwell, Idaho, Edmonton and Wrentham.

Weekly Newspaper Meet

On September 9, 10 and 11, the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association will hold its 38th annual convention in Banff, Alta.

Representatives of member newspapers from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island will meet to discuss the salient problems facing the industry, and to greet old friends, and make new ones, in this unique fraternity of weekly newspaper publishers and editors. As has always been the case, many of the wives and children will also be present, for they are a part of "Canada's Biggest Family Party," as the CWNA convention has come to be known, just as in so many instances they are active workers in the family newspaper.

There are serious problems facing the weekly newspaper industry today. High wage levels, constantly rising cost of materials and equipment, and a shortage of experienced workers are placing a very heavy demand on the productive and management skills of publishers, who seek to hold down costs as the alternative to increasing advertising and subscription rates. Their problem becomes even more acute why, because of rapid growth of the communities they serve, they must enlarge their plant and equipment, placing a great strain on limited reserves.

Such are the problems with which the CWNA conventions and the meetings of the provincial divisions of the association must deal. In forums and general meetings, delegates will attempt to find solutions and reach decisions which it is hoped will work for the good of the entire industry, CWNA members and non-members alike.

Certainly there are the pleasures of the social side of conventions, and the CWNA convention is rated high in this respect. But there is much serious discussion, too, because the member newspapers of the association are constantly seeking to improve themselves, not only on the inside, but in the public interest as well. It is never forgotten that the faithful subscriber is, in the final analysis, the keystone of a newspaper's being.

Rules For Night Driving

Each year, night-time driving results in scores of accidental deaths across Canada; most frequent causes are fatigue and poor visibility, according to the ALL Canada Insurance Federation.

With days growing shorter, many motorists are compelled to travel after dark and the Federation, which represents more than 200 Canadian fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies, recommends these precautions for safer night driving:

- (1) Always dim your headlights when approaching oncoming vehicles or when following close behind another automobile.
- (2) Allow extra space for stopping between your own car and the one ahead.
- (3) Signal all turns, preferably with flashing or illuminated signals.
- (4) Take frequent coffee breaks to combat drowsiness.
- (5) Stop for a nap if you are overtired.
- (6) Carry flares for use in case of mechanical breakdown.
- (7) If you must walk along a highway for any purpose, use the left shoulder, facing traffic.
- (8) Keep within the legal speed limits and obey caution and warning signs.
- (9) Take special precautions at dusk when some cars are using headlights while others may not be.

Not A Matter Of Luck

Sooner or later in trying to solve our wheat marketing troubles we are going to have to forget fancies and concentrate on hard facts. And one of the hardest of these, asserts The Financial Post, is that it is possible to grow far more wheat on the same land today than it was before the war.

It has been the fashion in certain quarters to blame our present surplus problem on a series of abnormally big crops, just luck, good or bad, depending upon who holds the wheat.

That argument completely ignores the very real progress made in plant breeding, farm machinery, and chemical weed killers. It also ignores facts. It assumes that farmers are still seeding and harvesting with horses, are still using Marquis and other obsolete and rust-vulnerable varieties of wheat, still losing the battle against weeds.

The truth is that wheat as in many other things our capacity to produce has increased steadily in the last 25 years and we face two alternatives: either we must drastically reduce acreage and grow less, or we must sell more.

& Trouble" applies in Canada, with the exception of the ruthlessness of the tax collectors. It is to be hoped that our new government, at the earliest possible date, cuts taxes right across the board. Once government revenue is brought down a little, government economy can be expected. But as long as the money rolls in, it will be spent — and none too wisely.

If I could afford it, I would send a copy of Miss Kellern's book to every member of the new Cabinet. There might have been a day when the philosophy of "tax and spend" ... spend the tax" could keep a government in power. I think that day is over. The people want a new deal.

What Is A Profitable Farm?
 A farm as a business can be compared to a hardware store, garage, hotel, factory or any agency in the city. At present the average farm operator differs somewhat from his city cousin in that he usually does the major portion of his actual farm labor as well as assuming the role of manager of the business in which he has his money invested. Therefore, there are certain income requirements which must be met by a farm if it is to be compared on an equal financial basis with a larger city business. A financial successful farm should make enough income to:

1. Meet all cash operating expenses plus a wage allowance for any farm work the farmer's family does.
2. Provide for the depreciation of capital equipment.
3. Take care of any land conservation measures necessary to maintain incomes.
4. Leave enough to give the farmer an adequate investment return on his equity in the farm business.
5. Leave a further residual large enough to give him a reasonable salary for assuming the role of both worker and manager of the farm business.

A farm operator does not necessarily have to meet all the above income requirements in any one year in order to carry on. In fact, some farmers seldom meet all these requirements, but in such cases, land, buildings and machinery gradually become run down to the point where the whole setup has little potential production. In the event of a crop failure or other adverse conditions, an operator could meet current farm living expenses with all or parts of his arbitrary depreciation, salary and interest allowances. In fact, in an extremely adverse year, he could carry on by meeting just the bare essentials of debt payments, and cash farm and living expenses, postponing and machinery replacements, expansion of his business, or anticipated improvements in his and his family's living standards till more favorable income conditions prevail. The point is, however, that all these items of depreciation, wages to the operator and members of the family, and return on investment must definitely be considered in the long run if a farmer is to make satisfactory progress on his farm without putting undue physical and mental hardship on himself and his family. A farm business analysis form is available to any farm operator wishing to obtain one. If records of the farm business have been kept to accurately complete this form a comparative return of the various farm enterprises can be determined.

This FALL for your GRASSLANDS and STUBBLE

BUY AND APPLY NITROGEN

... the plant food your crop uses most for bigger, better yields in 1958!

Your crops use more Nitrogen than any other plant food - for example, 40 bushels of wheat take away 47 lbs. of Nitrogen from your soil; 2 tons of brome hay take away over 60 lbs. of Nitrogen. This plant food must be replaced or your crops will be starved.

Spread Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* on stubble or pasture NOW! Next Spring, even before you can get on your land, grasslands are growing with fall-applied Nitrogen. Nitrogen put on stubble land this Fall speeds decomposition and is available as vital plant food when you seed in the Spring.

FOR GRASSLANDS

Nitrogen applied in the Fall means better forage growth. It means pasture is ready for grazing earlier, feeds more livestock and regrows faster. When you can put twice as many head on every acre, get them on the land from 3 to 4 weeks sooner in the Spring and keep them there longer, you make more money.

What's more, forage grown with Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* tastes better and is richer in essential proteins and minerals - you'll see the difference in fatter steers and heifers or increased milk production!

Making snows carry Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer to the root zone.

You can apply Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer with a Universal Fertilizer Attachment by removing the bottom ends of the attachment hoses from the top of the grain ribbon tubes... with a worn-out grain drill with the narrow openers removed... or with a regular broadcast spreader.

FOR STUBBLE

Nitrogen on stubble speeds up decomposition of valuable crop residues. In Spring plant food from both crop residue and Nitrogen Fertilizer is available to the new crop. Young plants benefit immediately from the readily available food in Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers*.

When you choose your High Nitrogen Fertilizer* from the Elephant Brand line, you add these benefits to your Fall-Fertilizing program.

HIGH ANALYSIS - more plant food in each bag, best value for your fertilizer dollar.

MORE TRAINED AGRICULTURISTS

The demand for qualified agriculturists, today, greatly exceeds the supply and as the Colleges and Faculties of Agriculture in Western Canada prepare to enroll students for the coming term, we are pleased to draw attention to the opportunities that exist in this important field. Many young men, perhaps, are not aware of the wide range of careers and jobs open to graduates in agriculture. With this in mind, the Agricultural Institute of Canada recently prepared a booklet entitled "Careers in Agriculture," a copy of which can be obtained through your agricultural representative or direct from the Faculty of Agriculture at your Provincial University.

Yes, many farmers are going to follow the advice of their neighbors and switch to the Melroe Pickup this year. It picks much cleaner and is much easier to operate than any other pickup on the market. The cost is not much when the pickup will save you the full amount on as little as 60 acres—ask the man who has used one.

HUSKINS — VOIGHT

A wedding of local interest was solemnized in June in the First Congregational Church in Berkeley, Calif., when Robert E. Huskins, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Huskins exchanged vows with Marjorie E. Voight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Voight, all of Berkeley. Dr. Vere V. Loper performed the candle-light service.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and wore a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta, the long sleeved bodice featuring an oval neckline. A sequined and beaded tiara held her finger-tip veil of French illusion net. She carried a bouquet of gladioli and pink bouvardia and wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Delores Voight was her sister's maid of honor and Irma Webster was bridesmaid. Both wore white eyelet over aqua taffeta sashed in matching taffeta ending in a large bow at the back.

This item may not be news but it will recall a lot of history. Our worthy postmaster, Carl L. Johnson, has installed a new door and a new doorstep in the Post Office. The doorstep was worn out completely for two inches and the balance was worn to a razor's edge. It had been walked upon for thirty-one years and I suppose that, in that time a million feet must have trodden upon it. Just think of the people who have crossed it to receive and send their mail. Today they are scattered to all four corners of the globe. This little item may bring a bit of nostalgia to a lot of readers.

THAT YE MAY KNOW

He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and what ye may believe on the name of the Son of God — I John 5:10-13 A.C.F.
